Tom Kelly

Mr. Kelly has over eight years experience in the Arizona public mental health system, having worked with for-profit and non-profit agencies. His experience includes providing technical assistance to provider agencies and Regional Behavioral Health Authorities to help improve peer and family support services and instill the philosophy and practice of bringing the individual and family voice into the design, implementation, delivery and monitoring and evaluation of the services provided to the individuals and families served in the public mental health system. Prior to joining the ADHS/DBHS, Tom worked for Cenpatco Behavioral Health of Arizona and Value Options to help educate, coach and train staff in recovery principles and the use of strength-based and person-centered planning principles. Tom has presented at national, state and local conferences on topics including recovery, advocacy, peer support and mentoring.
